

GOD'S CREATURES

By D. A. Stone

A big old  can say
"meow,"
And "moo, moo," says the
bossy .
"Quack, quack," squawks
the little ,
And a  says,
"cluck-cluck."
A baby  will say
"peep, peep,"
And "baa, baa," bleats
the woolly .
A  can whinny and say
"neigh,"
But just what does the say?

Draw a line from the picture of each animal in the poem to the bigger picture of that animal.
