

I Can Say I'm Sorry

By Hilary Watkins Lemon

I'm sorry I yelled at you. I'll try not to do it again.

When I say an unkind word, I can say I'm sorry.

That's OK. Would you like to play?

I'm sorry I broke your toy car. Would you like to play with mine?

When I break something, I can say I'm sorry.

Thanks! Let's play together.

Did you remember to clean your room?

When I forget to do my chores, I can say I'm sorry.

I'm sorry, Mom. I forgot. I'll do it right now.

I used your crayons without asking. Here they are. I'm sorry. Will you forgive me?

When I take something that isn't mine, I can say I'm sorry.

Yes, I will. Thanks for returning them.

Dad, I'm sorry I spilled. Will you please help me clean it up?

When I make a mess, I can say I'm sorry.

Of course. Thank you for telling me right away.

I'm sorry I knocked over your block tower, Matt.

That's OK. Now we can build a taller one together!
