According to Church Headquarters, the primary use of this property is for Young Women’s camps. If any openings in the schedule are available after the Young Women have scheduled their camps, other groups may also schedule activities, with priority going to the affiliated stakes.

In order to preserve the natural beauty and quality of this facility, the Camp seeks to adhere to the guidelines adopted by the US Forestry and Utah State Lands Use departments, subject to Church applicable church policies. Consistent with those guidelines, there are certain periods in which the property will not be available so that ecological recovery may take place. As a general rule, the property will be “closed” to groups every third calendar week.

General maintenance and upkeep is the shared responsibility of the seven participating stakes. Significant capital improvements are subject to approval by Church Headquarters on a case-by-case basis and, if approved, will be financed by general Church funds with a required contribution by the participating stakes.
Recreation Camp Guidelines

General Policies and Guidelines
The following general polices and guidelines are applicable to the use of the Wasatch Recreational Property:

- Scheduling:
  First Priority:  September 1 to November 30, scheduling for Stake Young Women camps for those stakes assigned to the property. Stake Young Women camps should have a first priority for usage during the months of June through August.
  Second Priority: December 1st until December 31st, Council youth Stake Youth Conferences
  Third Priority: January 1st forward other Church units such as ward campouts, Boy Scouts and priesthood quorums from the participating stakes will have priority.

- User Rules:
  Each group or individual using the East Canyon Recreational Property is responsible for the following:
  - Adequate adult supervision is required for all groups using the property.
  - Obtain gate and restroom combination from the agent stake representative. It is a good idea to keep the gate closed even when using the property to keep the curious and undesirables out. The gate must be securely locked when you leave.
  - Restrooms are to be cleaned and locked. This includes emptying and re-bagging the garbage cans in the restrooms and closing and locking windows.
  - Do not flush women’s sanitary products down the toilets.
  - Take all of your garbage and trash out with you when you leave. There are no garbage pick-ups.
  - Fires are to be in established fire pits only and be sure all fires are out cold when you leave. (This holds whether you are leaving the camp site unattended for only a moment or going home.)
  - Fireworks are prohibited.
  - Be certain all water taps are shut off completely.
  - Check that all lights and electrical facilities are shut off.
  - Park in designated area only.
  - No four wheeling allowed on property.
  - Camping and fires are allowed only in designated sites.
  - Please use only established trails.
  - Firewood, rocks, soil, and trees are not to be removed from the property.
  - Live trees are not to be cut, nailed, defaced, or destroyed in any way.
  - If you come across unauthorized visitors (do they have reservation?), if not, please remind them that you have the area reserved or call Morgan County Sheriff, 829-3745. (Do not be confrontational).
  - All work projects must first be approved and coordinated through the property manager, Terry Webb (801) 380-8535 (twebsite99@gmail.com).
  - Any question or problems, please call Terry Webb.

Fees:
- Council Stakes will provide an annual $500 assessment to be mailed to:
Recreation Camp Guidelines

Butler Stake, (WRC camp)
7035 Nutree Drive
SLC, Utah 84121

- For non affiliated groups there will be a deposit required plus a nominal user’s fee with the amount being determined by the size of the group and length of stay.
  - Weeklong Entire camp: $500
  - Weekend Only: $100 + deposit of $100

- When users complete their stay and all is cleaned, cared for and restored to original condition an keys returned, the deposit will be refunded.

Maintenance:
According to the Church Headquarters, each stake will be asked to “contribute from their respective budget allowance funds and user fees a reasonable amount to maintain the camp.” Also each stake should organize a work and maintenance crew from the priesthood to accept one assignment per year for performing upkeep and maintenance responsibilities. The assignments will be determined, coordinated and scheduled by the agent stake. Needed supplies and materials will be outlined and in some cases provided by the agent stake for each assignment. Each stake or group using the property will be responsible for clean up, site restoration and shut down before leaving the property.

Recreation Camp Guidelines

Area Supervisors will establish a Recreational Camp Council comprised of representatives of each stake presidency assigned to a recreational camp. The Area Supervisor will also appoint an agent stake president to serve as chairman of the Camp Council.

The Camp Council is responsible for the formulation of all policies and standards used to direct the camp’s programs, activities, operations, maintenance, and improvements in order to achieve the purpose of Church recreation camps. The Camp Council may establish an executive committee to oversee routine operations of the camp.

Recreation Camp Purpose:

Church recreation properties provide a dedicated outdoor setting of peace and harmony where the primary focus is to help young women feel the Spirit and enjoy safe, wholesome experiences which would help them:

- Draw closer to our Heavenly Father
- Develop and strengthen testimonies of the restored gospel
- Promote strong spiritual values, self-worth, and character
- Show reverence and respect for the Lord’s creations
- Learn and improve leadership and self-reliance skills
- Have opportunities for meaningful service
- Foster caring and nurturing service

The Recreational Camp Council will perform the following and other duties as necessary to achieve these purposes:

- Prepare and manage the annual budget for the operation and maintenance of the camp. (See the accompanying Recreation Camp Property Budget Instructions and Recreation Property Development Process Summary)
- Set camp use and deposit fees that will provide adequate funding for the ongoing maintenance and operations of the camp. (See the accompanying Recreation Camp Property Budget Instructions and Recreation Property Development Process Summary)
- Plan and direct maintenance work assignments.
- Ensure the observance of all local laws and regulations relative to building and other codes, and health safety requirements.
- Establish and administer safety policies and an Emergency Safety and Evacuation Plan
- Administer scheduling for the camp’s use.
  (Note: To protect the tax exempt status of the church’s recreation camps, individuals or groups should not be permitted to use the camp for any commercial or political purpose)
- Set transportation policies for access to the camp and parking while at the camp. (See, Travel, Church Handbook of Instructions, Book2.)
- Set appropriate dress, grooming and behavior standards.
- Establish and administer conservation policies
- If the camp has a waterfront, establish policies for securing and supervising certified lifeguards.
- Establish a priority list of service projects.

Stake responsibilities

Each stake president or his assigned Recreation Camp Counselor will, with their high council representative for the camp, coordinate and direct their stakes activities while at the camp and participate with the other stakes in performing the following duties:

- Participate in the development and approval of the annual budget and use fees.
- Provide adequate funding for their pro-rata share of operation and maintenance costs.
- Complete maintenance work assignments.
- Ensure camp guests and volunteers adhere to camp policies and guidelines.
- Ensure there are an adequate number of trained adult leaders and priesthood representatives for all activities.
- Personal entertainment devices are not allowed at the camp.
Recreation Camp Guidelines

- Each stake will remove, prior to their departure, all decorations, props, or structures of any type placed or brought into the camp.

Young Women’s Leader Information

- Recreation Camp Councils will, with the assistance of the stake young women’s presidency, prepare for young women leaders, guidelines and instructions relating to the young women’s use of the recreation camp. Following these guidelines and the Young Women Camp Manual guidelines should help young women draw closer to their Heavenly Father, become more self-reliant, develop leadership and self-reliance skills, lasting relationships and, help the young women strengthen each other. The guidelines may include the following:
  - Guidelines regarding what is to be presented in a pre-camp parent orientation.
  - Standards for girl’s camp priesthood representation and duties.
  - Standards and guidelines for camp security.
  - Standards for the completion and collection of Parental or Guardian Permission and Medical Release forms.
  - Guidelines regarding development of goals for the camp experience.
  - Guidelines restating the recreation camp’s health, safety, dress and behavior standards.
Recreation Camp Guest Leader Guidelines

The Recreation Camp Council should prepare an information package to be given each guest leader who will be responsible for a group using the camp. The information package should confirm the groups scheduled time at the camp and provide instruction about registering the group’s leaders and other guests.

The information package should state clearly and prominently in its content the Church purposes for recreation camps.

- Draw closer to our Heavenly Father
- Develop and strengthen testimonies of the restored gospel
- Promote strong spiritual values, self-worth, and character
- Show reverence and respect for the Lord’s creations
- Learn and improve leadership and self reliance skills
- Have opportunities for meaningful service
- Foster caring and nurturing service

The following are matters which may be included in the information package and which should be presented in an orientation which should take place upon arrival at the camp. The orientation may be presented by representatives of the Recreation Camp Council or the guest leader.

- Location description, directions or map showing the location of the camp including distances and/or miles scale.
- A description of the camp property including physical features such as lakes, cliffs, trails, camp sites, sleeping quarters, amphitheaters, etc.
- Camp site capacity limitations
- Use fees, deposits and registration information.
- Priesthood representation and other trained adult leader rations and responsibilities
- Dress, grooming and behavior standards
- Description of available programs and activities
- Reminder and guidelines regarding the completion and collection of Parental or Guardian Permission and medical Release Forms.
- Security measures including:
  - Sign-in, on-site registration or other means of guest and visitor identification.
  - Access and egress points, areas requiring caution or areas with prohibited access.
  - Information on wildlife.
  - Parking and transportation limitations and requirements.
  - Perimeter security measures, e.g., locked gates, etc.
- Health and Safety (local laws and regulations may need to be considered in the preparation of these guidelines.)
  - First Aid resources or guest requirements for first aid resources.
  - Emergency plans including:
    - Emergency gathering points.
    - Guest accountability and verification count.
    - Emergency procedures and evacuation plan.
    - Emergency contact and communications plan.
    - Offsite medical resources and accessibility including distance and location.
    - Important GPS coordinates.
- Fire prevention and precautions including extinguisher locations, other fire prevention resources and emergency contact information.
- Guest medication and health management plan including personal medication management.
- Use of record of log book for the recording of accidents or injuries requiring medical treatment or involving property damage at the camp. Instruction regarding how and to who such incidenes are to be reported.
- Food preparation and handling guidelines.
Recreation Camp Guest Leader Guidelines

- Use of a buddy system, having two or more campers together for specified activities including aquatics, backpacking, climbing, repelling, and off camp activities.

- Explanation of age and weight appropriateness for participation in particular activates.
  - Provide a list of items or activities prohibited at the camp, e.g., personal entertainment devices, fireworks, firearms, animals, ATVs, zip lines, etc.
  - Environmental considerations:
    - Fire restrictions
    - Endangered species
    - Laws and regulations
    - Conservation plan including “Leave it better than you found it” guidelines
  - Prior to departure, all decorations props, or structures or any type placed brought into the camp are to be removed.
  - To protect the camp’s tax exempt status, it is not to be used by any individual or group for any political or commercial purpose.

DIRECTIONS TO EAST CANYON PROPERTY

1. Go East from Salt Lake on I-80 up Parley’s Canyon.
2. Exit the freeway at the East Canyon (Mountain Dell Recreation Area) off ramp, Exit 134. This is the start of State Road 65.
3. Turn left at the stop sign and go under the freeway, northbound.
4. Stay on this road. It will curve around and run along Little Dell Reservoir.
5. You will pass a turn off to the left to Emigration Canyon. DO NOT TAKE IT. Continue straight.
6. Continue on this road. It will start to climb as it winds up the mountain.
7. Keep going until you come to the summit. You will enter Morgan County.
8. After the summit, the road begins to wind downhill toward East Canyon.
9. From the summit go about 1 and a half miles to mile marker 10.
10. Right at mile marker 10 you will see a large pull off/dirt parking area to the right.
11. At the east end of the parking area there is a red gate with a lock in the metal casing.
12. This is the gate to the East Canyon Camp property.
13. The lock now requires a key. It is not a combination lock.
14. Once you have entered the property, the road goes left and runs down along the outside of the property then curves to the right. See the map below of the property.

EAST CANYON CAMP MAP
Not to Scale
The purchase of this recreation property, I believe, was an inspired decision and there were many in both stakes that made it happen. Ware truly blessed to have such a great place only thirty minutes from the Salt Lake Valley.

The land was previously owned and purchased from the Bertinole family. Their primary use of the land consisted of grazing sheep and cattle. During the first few years it was regularly shared with the livestock which necessitated the removal of “cow pies” from the trails and camp sites.

Quaking Asp Creek runs down the draw and has water in it during the spring and early summer. There are two undeveloped springs near the east boundary which provide water to the creek below the eastern boundary. The original water rights sold with the land provided for 7500 sheep, 150 cows, 10 horses and one permanent residence. This had to be changed to culinary use for 300 people at peak periods. The current water system provides 8,000 gallons per week of culinary water. The spring water comes from a different canyon one half mile up the main road. The spring flows into a large concrete tank in the same canyon. The property was sold to the Church at the same time as a parcel just to the west that was sold to the Girl Scouts. The water tank supplies both properties. The Girl Scout land has since been sold to a Mr. Harker who owns most of the land around the camp. The land to the east is owned by East Canyon Resort.

The property is at 7362 feet in elevation at the highest point with the lowest point being at 6400 feet. The pine trees are White Fir and some are estimated to be over 200 years old. Other trees are Quaking Aspen, Maple and Gamble Oak. There are chokecherry, service berry and elderberries on the property. Animals seen on the property include elk, deer, porcupine, raccoon, rabbit, squirrel, chipmunk, pin hen, woodpecker and eagles.

SOME OF THE MAJOR EVENTS AND DATES:

1. Water rights secured, August 19, 1976
2. Geologic Reconnaissance, October 1976
3. State of Utah sanitation regulations, November 1979
4. Bingham Engineering hired, March 1980
5. Morgan county Engineer hired, May 1980
6. Project approved in letter to President Pond, August 1980
7. Approval from Utah State Health Dept., August 1980
8. Building Permits, June 1981
9. Bid obtained for water, sewer and restroom, August 1981
10. Heavy snow fell from trees and caved in roof, May 1982
11. Logged out beetle infested trees, May 1993
12. Water main damage, July 1997
Our Heavenly Father. By the authority of the Melchizedek Priesthood which I bear, and in the attitude of prayer, we approach thee at this hour to dedicate this lovely plot of earth as a recreational site for use by the membership of these two great stakes. And as we do so, we feel to express our love and gratitude to thee for all blessings we enjoy at thy hand, but particularly for what has been preserved here.

We are grateful for the beauties of this world. We are inspired by the majestic trees that surround us here; for the undergrowth, the rocks, the streams of water and the terrain that have been brought together by the genius in this unique setting. These lovely things do both please the eye and gladden the heart, and we do confess they hand in their creation and thank thee for they loving kindness in providing them in so much abundance.

We acknowledge the generosity of those who have consecrated their resources in helping to purchase this ground and who have worked to improve the site. It pleases us now to dedicate this site unto thee, for they purposes. And we become thy guests as we visit here. We pray that thou will accept of it and find it suitable and pleasing.

We pray that our coming here will bring our pioneer heritage to mind, for we know that those who settled this land passed very near to this spot as they labored through these mountains. We acknowledge their toil and the sacrifices required at their hands in order that we might enjoy the comforts which have become a part of our daily existence. We thank thee for their faith, for their determination, and for their courage.

We pray that the activities that take place here will be pleasing in the sight; that the events that occur will not be only recreational, but inspiring and faith promoting too.

May those who come feel the influence of thy holy spirit, and may testimonies of thy Gospel be spawned and strengthened in this setting.

As groups come to visit and participate, may true fellowship and love be a part of their associations. We pray that those who utilize this site will be protected from harm and accident; and may no one who comes under the auspices of thy Church ever lose their life in any of these activities in this place.

We would ask thee to watch over and protect this beautiful mountain setting. Preserve it from the ravages of fire or flood, or vandalism. We pray that those who would use the land for evil purposes, who would desecrate it or utilize it for immoral activities will be constrained by thy power and influence; that it might be kept free of all unrighteousness.

We ask all of these things humbly, believing thou hast the power to hear and answer our prayers. We declare our love for thee and thank thee again for all we enjoy at thy hand. It pleases us to offer this sanctuary as an expression of our respect and gratitude. We dedicate it to thee for these purposes, and we do so through the power of the Priesthood we hold and in the name of Jesus Christ. Amen.
