Introduction

Welfare and Self-Reliance Services
Department Vision

We strive to follow Jesus Christ by embracing the two great commandments to love God and love our neighbors. We do this as we:

- Minister to temporal needs.
- Build spiritual and temporal self-reliance.
- Bless both givers and receivers.

Products and Services Tool Kit

As Church leaders seek to care for those in need in their areas, they may be overwhelmed with the various needs of different people. Church leaders can use resources from the Lord’s storehouse to fulfill the two great commandments to love God and to love our neighbors.

The Lord’s storehouse has everything that a Church leader could use to meet needs, including fast-offering funds and the resources and abilities of each ward member. Resources could include contributions from the immediate family of the person in need, or the time and talents of ward members. Also available are community resources and support from the Church itself.

This booklet gives a short overview of Church products and services for Church members and leaders. Local leaders can use this guide to choose the tools and services that will be most helpful in caring for those in need in their area. More in-depth information on each tool can be found using the links at the end of each topic. As a reminder, Church products and services are not the only resources in the Lord’s storehouse that leaders could use.

“When we love God with all our hearts, He turns our hearts to the well-being of others in a beautiful, virtuous cycle.”

—RUSSELL M. NELSON, “The Second Great Commandment,” Ensign or Liahona, Nov. 2019, 97

Immediate Needs
Self-Reliance Plan

Needs

When Church members are struggling with self-reliance, it's important for leaders to understand the challenges faced. This will help them find likely solutions for immediate, short-term, and long-term self-reliance needs. The Self-Reliance Plan form can help leaders and members analyze needs and make a plan for moving forward.

Description

The Self-Reliance Plan form helps members assess needs, income, and expenses. It will help them create a plan with their leader for becoming more self-reliant. It can be used to help find possible resources and identify types of service the members can give in return for support received. The Self-Reliance Plan form replaces the formerly used Needs and Resources Analysis and Needs and Resources Analysis Supplement.

Who is this for?

This is for members seeking to be self-reliant, the leader who is working to help them, and maybe a mentor.

How it works

The member downloads a copy of the form or gets it from a leader. Then the member fills it out alone or with help from a mentor. The leader then meets with the member to review the plan together. If needed, the leader can suggest additional resources from the Lord’s storehouse. These include the member’s own resources and family, as well as community and Church resources. The member makes commitments, and the bishop or an assigned leader follows up regularly with the member. They will discuss further needs, concerns, and progress made on the plan.

Where to learn more

The Self-Reliance Plan form is downloadable in many languages: English, Spanish, Portuguese, French, Italian, German, Russian, Korean, Chinese, Japanese, Samoan, Tongan, Tagalog, and Cebuano. It can be found on the website below.

Immediate Needs
Fast-Offering Assistance

Needs

Fast offerings are for when people need immediate, temporary aid in meeting physical needs. These could be housing, food, medicine, or other necessities. A priesthood leader can use fast-offering funds to help those with immediate needs. Long-term or chronic needs should be addressed with other tools found within this guide.

Description

Many guides exist to help Church leaders give fast offerings and assist those in need:
1. Handbook 1: Stake Presidents and Bishops; Handbook 2: Administering the Church
2. Self-Reliance Plan form
   Church members in need fill out this form on their own or with the aid of a mentor. The form helps members assess their needs, income, and expenses and find resources within the Lord’s storehouse. It will also help them decide what service they can give in return for assistance received and make their own plan for becoming more self-reliant.
3. Providing in the Lord’s Way
   This in-depth booklet details the doctrine, the principles, and the duties of leaders regarding self-reliance and providing welfare assistance.
4. Welfare and Self-Reliance Leader Resources
   This website gives leaders a place to find training materials and other aids. These include handbooks, online links, Self-Reliance Plan forms, and information relating to welfare duties.

Depending on local or area needs, other fast-offering-related assignments and duties include:
1. Preparing medical fast-offering requests up to $10,000.
2. Reviewing fast-offering use and training needs or other action.

Who is this for?

The primary audience for these resources are priesthood leaders at the ward or branch level who give help to those in need. Ward and stake council members may also use these resources to support bishops as they give others assistance.

How it works

A priesthood leader will usually not give funds to the recipient directly. More precise information is given in the resources listed below. These guides and forms are available online. Handbook 1 and Handbook 2 are also in print. (Keep in mind that the online versions of the handbooks are the most up-to-date.) Providing in the Lord’s Way is also in print and can be ordered at store.ChurchofJesusChrist.org.

Food and Commodities

Needs
At times, food and other life-sustaining resources may not be readily available to members. This can happen due to product shortages, loss of income, or other factors. The guides listed below can help priesthood leaders as they help members in these situations.

Description
Many guides exist to help Church leaders give fast offerings and assist those in need:
1. Handbook 1: Stake Presidents and Bishops; Handbook 2: Administering the Church
2. Self-Reliance Plan form

4. Welfare and Self-Reliance Leader Resources
   This website gives leaders a place to find training materials and other aids. These include handbooks, online links, Self-Reliance Plan forms, and information relating to welfare duties.

Who is this for?
The main audience for these materials are bishops and other unit leaders who are helping members with physical, emotional, or behavioral needs or providing bishop’s orders for food and other commodities.

How it works
These guides and forms are available online. Handbook 1 and Handbook 2 are also in print. (Keep in mind that the online versions of the handbooks are the most up-to-date.) Providing in the Lord’s Way is also in print and can be ordered at store.ChurchofJesusChrist.org.

Immediate Needs
Stake Self-Reliance Centers (Immediate Need)

Needs

Many job seekers have serious, immediate employment needs and cannot go weeks without a job and a paycheck. (Some people, such as immigrants and refugees, have few connections or limited social networks. They could also be entry-level workers, people who have been in prison, and adults reentering the workforce. These longer-term situations are addressed within the “Education and Employment” section.)

Description

Self-reliance centers are staffed by missionaries and volunteers. These centers provide internet access, mentoring, and other kinds of aid to job seekers. For example, in professional centers, employment missionaries register job seekers and follow up with them as they work to find new jobs. LDSJobs.org gives job seekers the chance to search for listings and other tips to help them with their job search.

Who is this for?

Self-reliance centers are for people who are unemployed, underemployed, reentering the workforce, or looking to improve their current employment situation. These are not just for Church members. Anyone is welcome to visit a self-reliance center.

How it works

Self-reliance centers help people find solutions for needs that are often beyond what a self-reliance group can help with. Self-reliance centers can be in meetinghouses or family history centers, or they may be in existing welfare facilities. Some centers are “virtual” and connect people across the stake electronically. If a center is in a physical location, each stake will decide how often the center is open and how it is staffed.

Where to learn more

For site locations, contact your stake self-reliance specialist.
Refugee and Immigrant Support

Needs

Refugees and internally displaced people (IDP) who are fleeing persecution or violence often need life-sustaining help. They are cut off from their previous social networks, face severe language barriers, and often cannot work in their places of resettlement. The Church can play a lifesaving role in helping refugees successfully integrate into their new countries and communities.

Description

The Church’s Emergency Response and Refugee Services team works with Latter-day Saint Charities and other global partners to provide shelter, food, and medical assistance. They also provide clean water, sanitation, hygiene items, and nonfood items, all of which may be needed in refugee crises around the world. This team also helps with longer-term needs, such as education, psychosocial support, and help for refugees settling into camps or other communities.

Who is this for?

Refugee support services are offered to people in various global resettlement communities. This includes communities within the United States and Canada, as well as people who have been forced to flee their homes due to political unrest or persecution.

How it works

Outside the United States and Canada:
In collaboration with trusted global partners, the Church provides assistance to refugees and IDPs through three channels:

- Emergency response: This is for natural disasters affecting refugees.
- Refugee immediate support: This primarily means life-sustaining food and shelter.
- Refugee sustained support: This is for longer-term needs, such as education or mental health counseling. It could also be for job training support offered in extended-stay situations, such as resettlement camps. In Europe, these services and others may be offered at Friendship Centers.

Within the United States and Canada:
Depending on the location, the Church offers three main types of service for refugees and immigrants: volunteer support, donations to the refugee resettlement service providers, and training for refugee associates employed at Deseret Industries. The Church also partners with local entities to give free help to immigrants. In the U.S., this may include:

- Legal clinics.
- Welcome centers.
- Cultural adaptation classes.
- Immigration workshops.

JustServe
(Limited Availability)

Needs
Many people want to volunteer in their areas, but they don’t know where to get started. Many organizations need volunteers, but they aren’t sure where to find them. JustServe can help with this need and let Church members give valuable service where they live.

Description
JustServe is a service initiative provided by the Church that helps match volunteers with service-oriented volunteer work. Groups of people are invited to share volunteer needs through a web-based portal. These groups are faith-based, nonprofit, community, and government organizations who know about certain needs in their areas. Church members, missionaries, and community members can then use the JustServe portal to find opportunities for service.

How it works
Outside of Utah, JustServe working groups are assigned at the stake level. They work closely with the stake welfare and self-reliance committee as well as the stake public affairs council. They work together to find and reach out to organizations who may want JustServe volunteers. Within Utah, JustServe efforts are planned in coordinating councils. With approval from the mission president, missionaries may be invited to help in JustServe projects.

Who is this for?
Church members and groups—including wards, branches, Primary and youth groups, families, and individuals—and other community members can tap into the wide range of service opportunities on JustServe. Organizations who need volunteers can post opportunities on the JustServe portal.

JustServe is available throughout the U.S. and Canada. It is in limited phases of use in Mexico, Puerto Rico, Australia, and the United Kingdom.

Where to learn more
Visit JustServe.org. You can also download the JustServe mobile app from the Google Play Store (for Android) or the App Store (for iOS).
Emergency Response Funding

Needs

Individuals and communities may need short-term, life-sustaining support after natural disasters, civil unrest, or famine. This can be given through emergency response funding.

Description

The Church works to care for those with the greatest need following a disaster. Emergency response is a program of Latter-day Saint Charities, the official humanitarian arm of the Church. Latter-day Saint Charities gives relief by partnering with government ministries, nongovernmental organizations (NGOs), and community-based organizations, helping millions of people worldwide.

The following are some of the emergency events Latter-day Saint Charities responds to:

- Hurricanes and tornadoes
- Flooding
- Wildfires
- Disease outbreaks
- Civil conflict
- Famine and drought

How it works

If an emergency happens, Church leaders may be asked to help in response efforts and to organize volunteers. When emergencies mainly affect members, bishops may consider using fast-offering funds. The Humanitarian Aid Fund is used to help communities on a larger scale. All projects using the Humanitarian Aid Fund must be approved by the Area Presidency and follow other funding rules.

Helping Hands

Needs
Helping Hands provides service opportunities for Church members, with projects chosen and led by local Church leadership. Helping Hands strengthens the reputation of the Church by helping to dispel negative stereotypes. It introduces Church members to their neighbors and community leaders as Christians who minister in their communities.

Description
Under local priesthood direction, members may be invited to provide community service or to help others. This planning usually happens in the stake welfare and self-reliance and public affairs councils. Helping Hands work may range from beautifying city streets and parks to helping with disaster relief. Service work also allows the Church to build relationships with other groups, such as community leaders, opinion makers, and press. These associations can influence public opinion and help create a positive perception of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Who is this for?
Helping Hands is for Church leaders and members with a desire to give service in their areas. It builds bridges of understanding with neighbors and influential community leaders. Helping Hands projects can be formed in all areas of the Church.

How it works
Projects are usually planned by local public affairs councils and stake welfare and self-reliance councils. These councils work with local priesthood leaders.

Where to learn more

Emergency Mental Health Services

Needs
Following a disaster or critical event, such as an accident or unexpected death, people may have intense emotional reactions. They may experience shock, grief, anxiety, and depression. Some people may require emergency mental health services and crisis intervention to help them cope.

Description
Family Services counselors may give help after a disaster or critical incident like a suicide. They do this at the request of Church leaders, and they counsel with the leaders. They may provide consultation and assessment, crisis intervention and counseling, or assistance with finding the right resources. All services are designed to increase one’s well-being and emotional self-reliance.

Who is this for?
Emergency mental health services are for members who have disabling stress or for members with challenges related to a disaster or critical event.

How it works
Following a disaster or critical event, Church leaders contact their local Family Services professional. They will consult about possible needs and available resources. Family Services staff can recommend appropriate actions to take.

Where to learn more

Area Humanitarian Initiatives

Needs

Local humanitarian needs may not be covered by the Church’s major humanitarian initiatives. An area may meet these needs by including a humanitarian initiative in the area plan.

Description

Area initiatives are community-based projects tied to the area’s annual plan. These are carried out by welfare service missionaries or area personnel under the direction of the area welfare and self-reliance manager (AWSRM). These initiatives are funded by the Church’s Humanitarian Aid Fund.

Projects expected to cost under US$25,000 are approved by the Area Presidency. Church headquarters staff will help develop plans and obtain approval for projects expected to cost more than US$25,000.

Who is this for?

Area humanitarian initiatives are intended to serve both the general public and Church members as directed by area leadership. Area initiatives can be proposed and considered within all areas of the Church.

How it works

The area leadership chooses priorities for initiatives. For each project, welfare service missionaries or area personnel find local organizations that can help. The missionaries or area personnel submit a proposal in writing to the AWSRM, who then submits the proposal to the Area Presidency for approval. Once the project is approved, funds are made available. The missionaries or area personnel manage the project, monitor progress, and report results to the AWSRM.

Where to learn more

Major Humanitarian Initiatives

Needs

Certain needs are common in many parts of the world, such as the need for disaster relief or the need to ease poverty by building capability. Major humanitarian initiatives are designed to respond in a consistent way to these needs.

Description

Humanitarian Services, or Latter-day Saint Charities, is the official humanitarian arm of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Latter-day Saint Charities focuses on eight programs that seek to ease the challenges of vulnerable populations. Major initiatives include:

- Emergency response.
- Food security.
- Clean water.
- Immunization.
- Refugee response.
- Maternal and newborn care.
- Vision care.
- Wheelchairs.

Who is this for?

Latter-day Saint Charities works to help those in need without regard to race, religious affiliation, or nationality. Key partners in this service are government ministries, nongovernmental organizations (NGOs), and community-based organizations.

How it works

1. Major initiatives are recommended and approved by the areas and headquarters as part of area annual plans. (See the Humanitarian Services Operations Guide for more information.)
2. Managers of major initiatives (MMIs) set global priorities and recommend project locations.
3. Area welfare and self-reliance managers (AWSRMs) may request major initiatives:
   - As defined and prioritized by country governments.
   - Aligning with Church humanitarian efforts.
   - In places where suffering exists.
4. MMIs and technical specialists make and keep relationships with global partners.
5. MMIs enlist members of the Church with technical expertise. These members may be asked to serve as technical specialists, trainers, or volunteers. Or they may be asked to serve as volunteers for maternal and newborn care, wheelchair services, vision care, and clean water projects. Roles for these specialists include project development and management, technical training, project coordination, and other support.

Education and Employment
BYU–Pathway Worldwide: PathwayConnect

Needs

Millions of Church members throughout the world don’t have a university degree because of high costs or lack of access to quality higher education. With BYU–Pathway Worldwide, everyone can access low-cost online higher education within the framework of the gospel of Jesus Christ.

Description

PathwayConnect is a one-year (three-semester) reduced-cost online program offered through BYU–Pathway Worldwide. It prepares students to start or finish a degree by building spiritual confidence and teaching foundational academic skills. After PathwayConnect, students can apply their course credits toward a degree at the same low price. Each semester, students take a manageable course load of academic and religious education. All course credits count toward future BYU–Idaho degrees, presented and coordinated through BYU–Pathway Worldwide.

In addition to the online coursework, students also gather once a week to get support from their peers and to attend educational and leadership activities related to their courses. Depending on the location, gatherings may be held at a Church meetinghouse, at an institute building, or virtually through online groups. After PathwayConnect, students are encouraged to continue their education by earning BYU–Idaho certificates and degrees online.

Who is this for?

This is for people who want to start on the path to a Church-based education that leads to better employment, a certificate, or a university degree. Students do not need to have completed a high school diploma, pass any standardized test, receive an ecclesiastical endorsement, or be members of the Church in order to participate. But they do need to meet other admission requirements, and they need to be able to understand written and spoken English.

How it works

Students complete online courses and meet either virtually or in person each week with other local PathwayConnect students. PathwayConnect students may then choose to continue with BYU–Idaho online certificates and degree courses through BYU–Pathway Worldwide. They must have a B average or higher to continue on.

BYU–Pathway Worldwide: Certificates and Degrees

 Needs

Millions of Church members throughout the world don’t have a university degree because of high costs or lack of access to quality higher education. With BYU–Pathway Worldwide, everyone can access low-cost online higher education within the framework of the gospel of Jesus Christ.

 Description

Students who feel they fulfill PathwayConnect requirements and satisfy other BYU–Pathway admissions requirements can begin a certificate or degree program directly. These students can choose from more than 30 BYU–Idaho online certificates that lead to focused degrees through BYU–Pathway Worldwide. Certificates and degrees are available in the areas of business, technology, applied health, family studies, and professional studies.

Students start by earning a job-ready certificate, typically by taking just five courses that can be completed in one year or less. Certificates help students gain marketable skills and increase their income potential before receiving a degree. Of the students who complete certificates and are seeking new or better employment, 72 percent have immediate job improvement. Those who complete a certificate are also more likely to continue toward a bachelor’s degree.

Degrees are built by stacking certificates. This means that no credits are ever lost. Earning certificates enables students to start building skills that can help them get jobs. After the first certificate, they can gain an associate degree by completing a second certificate plus general education and elective courses. They can then gain a bachelor’s degree by completing a third certificate plus more general education. Through this approach, students earn three job-ready certificates, an associate degree, and a bachelor’s degree for the same cost and time it would have taken to earn only a bachelor’s degree.

Who is this for?

To be eligible for BYU–Idaho online certificates and degrees, students must meet all admission requirements. They may also enter directly into an online degree program or successfully complete all three semesters of PathwayConnect with a 3.0 GPA or higher.

How it works

Students take online courses beginning in January, April, and September. Courses are 14 weeks long and are taught by skilled BYU–Idaho online instructors.

Perpetual Education Fund (in Approved Countries)

Needs
When Church members need help funding vocational or technical training for local in-demand skills, the Perpetual Education Fund (PEF) can help.

Description
PEF gives loan funding for approved vocational and technical training to members living in PEF-approved countries. This can empower these members to become successful and self-reliant by obtaining skills that lead to better work. PEF helps pay for training programs that are less than two years long, and repayment is required.

Who is this for?
PEF is for all members aged 18 and older who live in approved countries, who would benefit from education in skills that are in demand, and who are struggling to provide for themselves and their families. Members must hold a current temple recommend and be determined to complete their training, work, and repay the loan.

See the list of approved countries at ChurchofJesusChrist.org/self-reliance/pef-perpetual-education-fund.

How it works
To apply for a loan, a member must do the following:
1. Complete an approved self-reliance group. This is usually Education for Better Work.
2. Complete the lesson in the Perpetual Education for Self-Reliance booklet.
3. Get a priesthood endorsement from his or her bishop or branch president.
4. Create an account at pef.ChurchofJesusChrist.org and request money.
5. Start attending school after approval has been gained and payment has been made to the school.
6. Make small monthly payments during school.
7. Following completion (or withdrawal) from school, begin work and make monthly payments to pay off the loan.

Benson Scholarship (Limited Availability)

Needs
The Ezra Taft Benson Agriculture and Food Scholarship, or Benson Scholarship, grants members in developing countries university-level training in agriculture and related fields.

Description
The Benson Scholarship is a grant, so students are not required to repay the funds. They are required to study in an approved program in agriculture or a related field that should provide food security. A possible field could be agronomy, horticulture, or animal husbandry. The scholarship can cover postsecondary studies, including workshops, one- and two-year diplomas, and four-year degree programs. Students must study in-country at an accredited school.

Who is this for?
This is for members who want to have careers in food, water, and agricultural sciences. Benson Scholars remain in and benefit their countries after receiving their formal credential.

The Benson Scholarship program is not in all Church areas at this time. Area welfare and self-reliance managers (AWSRMs) will verify availability in a given country.

How it works
Interested members can do the following:
• Ask for an application from bensonscholarship@ChurchofJesusChrist.org.
• Complete program prerequisites, such as a self-reliance group.
• Get a signed endorsement from their local priesthood leader.
• Submit the scholarship application form, self-reliance group completion certificate, and priesthood endorsement to bensonscholarship@ChurchofJesusChrist.org.

The application is reviewed by the area office and by program leaders in Salt Lake City. If the candidate’s application is approved, scholarship funds will be given by the area finance office.

Where to learn more
Contact the local welfare and self-reliance manager for more information.
EnglishConnect 1, 2, 3

Needs
Many people need education, employment, and other life-enhancing opportunities. English-language skills can give them greater access to these things.

Description
EnglishConnect is an English-learning program from The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Its purpose is to help learners increase their English proficiency in a gospel-centered environment. Each course includes personal study and support for group practice. The manuals for EnglishConnect 1 and 2 are available in both digital and print formats.

Who is this for?
This is for both members and friends of the Church.

- EnglishConnect 1 is for new to high-beginner learners. This class requires literacy in the person’s native language and the ability to read the English alphabet and basic words. These things are determined by the learner and the teacher’s evaluation.

- EnglishConnect 2 is for high-beginner to low-intermediate learners. It builds on EnglishConnect 1. This class requires literacy in the person’s native language and the ability to read basic English sentences. A learner must have the ability to ask and answer basic questions on common topics. These things are determined by the learner and the teacher’s evaluation.

- EnglishConnect 3 is for low-intermediate to high-intermediate learners. It is a self-paced online course, which means learners complete assignments at their own pace. The course includes a student-led weekly gathering online or in a local meetinghouse. Students who successfully complete this third level of training are prepared to seek admission to PathwayConnect through BYU–Pathway Worldwide. (Visit byupathway.org/pathwayconnect for more information.)

How it works
EnglishConnect 1 and 2 conversation groups are created by local wards, stakes, and missions. They are taught by members and missionaries under the direction of local Church leaders. Each course has personal study aids and a 90-minute conversation class held weekly, usually at a local meetinghouse.

EnglishConnect 3 is offered through BYU–Pathway Worldwide with support from local Church members and leaders. Interested leaders can work with the welfare and self-reliance manager (WSRM) and BYU–Pathway area managers to open classes in their locations.

Education for Better Work (Self-Reliance Group)

Needs

People often need help finding jobs in their area. They also may need help acquiring the necessary training to get hired.

Description

The Education for Better Work group helps people create a local market–based educational plan. This plan includes finding a career interest and analyzing the market need for the desired career. It also includes understanding the skills required for the job, exploring the best training options, and determining how to pay for training. The course covers skills for successful learning, 12 spiritual foundation principles, and habits to help people become self-reliant.

Who is this for?

This workshop group helps people find and prepare for a career. It can help young adults looking to start a career, and it can also help older adults who want to improve their career or reenter the workforce. The group is not limited to Church members. Anyone is welcome to attend.

How it works

Education for Better Work is often implemented as a 12-week self-reliance group. Self-reliance groups work like councils and are enhanced by the experiences of each person, as well as the influence of the Holy Ghost. The skills formed in the workshop can be practiced alone or in a coaching situation. A printed version of the manual is available at store.ChurchofJesusChrist.org, and a digital version and supporting videos are available on the Gospel Library mobile app.

Find a Better Job
(Self-Reliance Group)

Needs
Searching for a job can be difficult, complex, and stressful. Employment is critical to self-reliance, but many qualified people struggle to find work because they lack job-seeking skills. This struggle can negatively affect their finances, relationships, and mental and spiritual health.

Description
The Find a Better Job course helps qualified, job-ready, and actively searching job seekers learn practical job-search skills. It can help them pursue the right activities and work with God to find employment as quickly as possible. Under the direction of a group facilitator, group members follow a course manual. The length of the course can be set by the group and priesthood leaders. It may be held in Saturday-only groups, 3-week groups, 9-week groups, or 12-week groups.

Who is this for?
This is for any job seeker who is ready and qualified to get and keep a job. It is for those prepared to work hard in the job-search effort. People who are not currently qualified for the job they want or who may not be job-ready can counsel with their Church leader, who can direct them to other Church and community resources. The group is not limited to Church members. Anyone is welcome to attend.

How it works
Find a Better Job can be implemented as a self-reliance group. Depending on the needs of the local unit and group members, the materials can be completed over different time periods. For example, group members could complete the materials over 12 weeks, meeting for two hours per week. For an accelerated schedule, they might complete two five-hour sessions by meeting on two back-to-back Saturdays.
Some people don’t feel comfortable learning job-search skills in a group setting. This manual can also be reviewed and practiced alone or in one-to-one coaching situations with an employment specialist. A printed version of the manual is available at store.ChurchofJesusChrist.org, and a digital version and supporting videos are available on the Gospel Library mobile app.

Starting and Growing My Business
(Self-Reliance Group)

Needs
In many economies, owning a business is the best way to earn a living wage. People contemplating this option need to understand basic business principles as well as the financial and emotional realities of self-employment.

Description
The Starting and Growing My Business course teaches how to save money. It helps people explore their readiness to own a business and practice selling and talking with customers. It also teaches how to keep business financial records, how to turn to God and work with others to solve business problems, and how to grow in faith and build the confidence necessary to run a profitable small business.

How it works
Starting and Growing My Business is often implemented as a self-reliance group for 12 weeks. Self-reliance groups work like councils and are enhanced by the experiences of each person, as well as the influence of the Holy Ghost. The skills in this manual can also be reviewed and practiced alone or in a coaching situation. A printed version of the manual is available at store.ChurchofJesusChrist.org, and a digital version and supporting videos are available on the Gospel Library mobile app.

Who is this for?
This course helps those facing challenging job environments. It’s also helpful for people who have entrepreneurial talents and interests. The group is not limited to Church members. Anyone is welcome to attend.

Stake Self-Reliance Centers (Long-Term Preparation)

Needs

Having a job is key to self-reliance. Job seekers with few skills or limited social networks face a difficult, complex, and stressful task. These job seekers could be immigrants, refugees, entry-level workers, people who have been in prison, or adults reentering the workforce. In these situations, support and training in life skills are essential.

Description

Self-reliance centers can give people personalized guidance, encouragement, and support. They are staffed by missionaries and volunteers. These centers have internet access, mentoring, and other helpful resources for job seekers.

Who is this for?

Self-reliance centers are for people who are unemployed, underemployed, reentering the workforce, or looking to improve their current employment situation. These are not just for Church members. Anyone is welcome to visit a self-reliance center.

How it works

Self-reliance centers help people find solutions for needs that are often beyond what a self-reliance group can help with. Self-reliance centers can be in meetinghouses or family history centers, or they may be in existing welfare facilities. Some centers are “virtual” and connect people across the stake electronically. If a center is in a physical location, each stake will decide how often the center is open and how it is staffed.

Where to learn more

For site locations, contact your stake self-reliance specialist.
Job Training: Deseret Industries, Development Counseling Services (Limited Availability)

Needs
Many people have barriers that make it harder for them to secure good jobs and have long-term self-reliance.

Description
Deseret Industries (DI) gives on-the-job training within a thrift store and donation center. People learn basic work skills to find and keep better jobs. DI also helps with other training, including paying for associates to take classes and get certifications.

Within the DI system, Development Counseling Services gives work assessments to those referred by a priesthood leader. Development counselors consult with individuals and their bishops to plan services. They also help individuals make work plans and support them in obtaining work skills and internship training.

Who is this for?
This is for those who:
- Are returning to the workforce.
- Have struggled in previous jobs.
- Need more work skills or education.
- Lack work experience.
- Struggle with poor work habits or lack of self-confidence.
- Are preparing to leave for a mission or have recently returned from one.
- Struggle finding a career direction.

DI stores are in 44 different locations in the western United States. Development Counseling Services offices are located throughout the United States and in select regions of Canada.

How it works
Priesthood leaders can refer people for services by using the Bishop’s Authorization for Services—United States and Canada (31480). They can also refer an individual to DI or Development Counseling Services by contacting a development counselor over the phone, via email, or in person.

Emotional Health
Life Help at ChurchofJesusChrist.org

Needs
People often need help dealing with the challenges of life. They may have unmet physical and emotional needs, or they may be struggling with their education or their relationships. They may be affected by addiction, suicide, or other serious issues.

Description
This Church website connects people facing challenges with Church-developed or Church-approved help and information.

Who is this for?
This website is for those struggling with life challenges and for family, friends, and leaders seeking to help others.

How it works
People can visit the Life Help page on ChurchofJesusChrist.org to find information about wellness issues. They can also find this information on the Gospel Library app under "Life Help."

Where to learn more
Visit HopeandHelp.ChurchofJesusChrist.org.
Family Services Leader Consultation

Needs

Many people come to leaders seeking help on sensitive issues. Leaders may need professional insight and advice on how to give support. They may also need help to know when to refer someone for professional help.

Description

Leader consultation is a free service for leaders needing to speak with a Family Services consultant. This can help Church leaders better understand the social and emotional needs and challenges of their members. Family Services consultants can also help Church leaders learn what resources exist. They can advise on how to move forward if a member needs professional help.

Consultation specialists in the United States, Canada, and a few other locations are licensed mental health professionals. They can help with issues of social and emotional health. International Family Services employees can direct leaders to resources in other nations.

Who is this for?

Leader consultation services are for ward and stake council members.

How it works

Leaders can get consultation help by sending a referral through the Family Services Leader Resources website (see the link below). Or they can get help by contacting their local Family Services office. Family Services can also help Church leaders find local community tools.

Emotional Health
Abuse Help Line

Needs

Physical, emotional, and sexual abuse are urgent and sensitive issues that must have an immediate and specific response.

Description

The abuse help line is a critical tool for local leaders who encounter any form of abuse.

Who is this for?

This is for priesthood unit leaders, which includes bishops, branch presidents, stake presidents, district presidents, and mission presidents.

How it works

Priesthood unit leaders who are informed of abuse by either the abuser or the abused are required to immediately contact the abuse help line. They will be given counsel on legal requirements and ministering support.

• International leaders call their area office to speak with area legal counsel.
• Local leaders living in the United States and Canada call the number below.
  24-hour abuse help line:
  1-800-453-3860, ext. 2-1911

Where to learn more

For general information on situations of abuse, see “Abuse (Help for the Victim)” and “Abuse (Help for the Offender).” These are on the Counseling Resources website at

Addiction Recovery Program

Needs

Those struggling with addiction and other harmful behaviors need guidance and support from a gospel-centered viewpoint. In equal measure, family members and loved ones of those struggling with such behaviors need support too.

Description

The Church has support groups for those struggling with addiction and for their families and close friends. These groups are not intended to be treatment groups. They are run by volunteers who are not professional therapists. Members may need professional treatment before or along with the addiction recovery support groups.

The Church’s addiction recovery program is a 12-step program based on gospel principles. People can attend meetings in person or over the phone. The support meetings use the manual Addiction Recovery Program: A Guide to Addiction Recovery and Healing.

The Church’s spouse and family support meetings use the manual Support Guide: Help for Spouses and Family of Those in Recovery. This program gives support and care for family members and loved ones impacted by addiction. People can attend meetings in person or over the phone.

Who is this for?

This is for those affected by addiction and other harmful behaviors, including the families and friends of those who struggle with such behaviors. It’s also for Church leaders seeking support as they minister to those so affected.

How it works

Meetings for those struggling and for friends and family can be found at AddictionRecovery.ChurchofJesusChrist.org.

Counseling Services
(Limited Availability)

Needs

Each of us deals with challenges in life. Sometimes those challenges can overwhelm us, and we need help. Such experiences may include abuse, depression, addiction, or even natural disasters.

Description

Short-term professional counseling for missionaries, individuals, couples, and families is available through Family Services. Pre-mission social and emotional assessments are given at no cost to future missionaries who may need additional support to be successful in the mission field. Family Services can also consult with Church leaders to help a future missionary prepare for service. Some current missionaries may receive support from Family Services counselors or other qualified professionals as approved by their mission president.

Who is this for?

This is for anyone experiencing overwhelming social and emotional challenges, such as depression, anxiety, abuse, addiction, and so on. Missionary candidates, serving missionaries of any age, couples, single expectant mothers, family members, and other individuals may benefit from counseling.

How it works

A Church leader must give a referral before Family Services can provide counseling. Leaders can use fast offerings to pay for services as needed. Counselors can recommend alternative treatment options when long-term care is necessary or if someone needs specialized or comprehensive care. These options can include community resources as well. Missionaries who return home early may have up to six counseling sessions at no cost.

Where to learn more

General social and emotional health information and support for local leaders are available at ChurchofJesusChrist.org/mentalhealth.
Strengthening Marriage;
Strengthening the Family
(Courses)

Needs
People may want to improve marriage relationships or understand conflict management in a relationship.

Description
These courses can help families increase harmonious and loving family relationships.

1. Strengthening Marriage: This manual covers six topics:
   - “Applying Gospel Principles,”
   - “Communicating with Love,”
   - “Fostering Equality and Unity,”
   - “Overcoming Anger,”
   - “Resolving Conflict,”
   - “Enriching Marriage.”

2. Strengthening the Family: This manual covers the following topics:
   - “Parenting Principles and Practices,”
   - “Understanding Child Development,”
   - “Communicating with Love,”
   - “Nurturing Children,”
   - “Fostering Confidence,”
   - “Overcoming Anger,”
   - “Resolving Conflict,”
   - “Teaching Responsible Behavior,”
   - “Applying Consequences.”

How it works
Course manuals for Church leaders and members can be found on the Gospel Library app or online. These courses in their entirety, or certain chapters or sessions, may be taught at ward and stake levels as needed—for example, in a second-Sunday elders quorum and Relief Society class or in youth classes. Local leaders may also want to teach these courses anytime during the week or after Church meetings on Sunday.

Where to learn more
Visit ChurchofJesusChrist.org/topics/family/strengthening-marriages-and-families.

Who is this for?
The relationship skills taught in these courses are helpful for all members, whatever their current marital or parenting status. Unit priesthood leaders may invite people to attend either course.
Preparedness
Home Storage Centers
(Limited Availability)

Needs

Church members are encouraged to obtain short-term and long-term supplies of essential food items.

Description

Home storage centers sell food products and food preparation and storage materials. This is to help Church members and others build a basic supply to meet their unique home storage needs. Several prepackaged items are also available through the online store.

Who is this for?

Home storage centers are for Church members and others who want to build a supply of food storage and drinking water. These centers are found across the United States and Canada. Find exact locations at ProvidentLiving.ChurchofJesusChrist.org/self-reliance/food-storage/home-storage-center-locations.

How it works

Church members and others may visit a home storage center in person or online to purchase products they desire. The price list of home storage center items can be downloaded from ProvidentLiving.ChurchofJesusChrist.org/food-storage/home-storage-center-locations-map.

This site also includes an order form that customers can print, fill out, and take with them to the home storage center.

Home storage items can be purchased online at store.ChurchofJesusChrist.org/usa/en/food-storage-3074457345616678849-1.

Personal Finances (Self-Reliance Group)

Needs

All individuals and families, at all income levels, need personal financial management skills. How they manage their personal finances can affect their relationships, spiritual resilience, ability to serve, and ability to provide for their basic needs.

Description

This workshop helps people do the following:

1. Understand that the spiritual and the physical are connected.
2. Work with God to plan and solve problems and work to improve their financial state.
3. Learn how to talk about finances, either with a partner or spouse or with the Lord.
4. Gain financial skills like tracking expenses, budgeting, and saving.
5. Learn how to get out of debt, prepare for hard times, and invest for the future.

How it works

Personal Finances is often implemented as a self-reliance group for 12 weeks. Self-reliance groups work like councils and are enhanced by the experiences of each person, as well as the influence of the Holy Ghost. The skills in this manual can also be reviewed and practiced alone or in a coaching situation. A printed version of the manual is available at store.ChurchofJesusChrist.org, and a digital version and supporting videos are available on the Gospel Library mobile app.

Who is this for?

The spiritual and practical principles in this course will help any member of the Church. They are especially helpful for those who want to improve or understand their personal finances better, such as young adults, single adults, or the recently married. Those who are divorced or widowed and those who have temporal challenges could also find these principles helpful. If a person is in a committed relationship, he or she is encouraged to attend with his or her partner or spouse.

The course is not limited to Church members. Anyone is welcome to attend.

If there is any one thing that will bring peace and contentment into the human heart, and into the family, it is to live within our means.”

—Teachings of Presidents of the Church: Heber J. Grant (2002), 122
VOAD (Limited Availability)

Needs

To help us fulfill our mission of inviting all to come unto Christ and serving those in need, the Church has representatives on local VOAD councils and forums.

Description

VOAD stands for Voluntary Organizations Active in Disaster. The Area Presidency calls someone to serve as the official Church representative on a state-level VOAD council.

Who is this for?

State VOAD representatives are called by their Area Presidency and serve under an Area Seventy. Regional and community VOAD representatives serve under stake or district leadership.

How it works

The Church VOAD representative counsels and plans with other members of VOAD. A VOAD representative has three primary duties:

1. Represent the Church on the state or community VOAD committee. (Community representatives are called by their stake president to serve on local councils, where applicable.)
2. Build relationships of trust with partner, civil, and community agencies.
3. Serve as an emergency response subject-matter expert to local Church leaders and welfare and self-reliance managers.

Stake, Ward, and Family Emergency Plans

Needs

Families, wards, and stakes should plan and prepare for emergencies.

Description

An emergency plan should include the following steps:

- List likely risks or disasters.
- Gather critical information.
- Outline assignments and procedures.
- Name emergency communication tools and methods.
- Encourage members (of the stake, ward, or family) to be prepared.

Who is this for?

This is for people in families, wards, and stakes or in branches and districts.

How it works

Church members and units are encouraged to create plans for responding to natural disasters and other emergencies. Emergency plan outlines, checklists, and more tools are on the Church’s website.

Where to learn more
