

Genesis 40:1–23

Narrator:

Sometime after Joseph was placed in prison, Pharaoh became upset with his chief butler and chief baker and placed them in prison. Joseph was assigned to be their servant. One night both the butler and the baker had troubling dreams. In the morning Joseph noticed that they were sad.

Joseph:

Wherefore look ye so sadly today?

Butler:

We have dreamed a dream...

Baker:

... and there is no interpreter of it.

Joseph:

Do not interpretations belong to God? Tell me them, I pray you.

Narrator:

And the chief butler told his dream to Joseph.

Butler:

[Read Genesis 40:9–11, beginning with “In my dream...”]

Joseph:

[Read Genesis 40:12–15, beginning with “This is the interpretation...”]

Narrator:

When the chief baker saw that the interpretation of the butler’s dream was good, he told Joseph his dream.

Baker:

[Read Genesis 40:16–17, beginning with “I also was in my dream...”]

Joseph:

[Read Genesis 40:18–19, beginning with “This is the interpretation...”]

Narrator:
