HELP YOUR QUORUM

You can help quorum and class members feel welcome and comfortable by planning activities according to their interests and needs. Here are some things to consider as you reach out to your friends.

Who is missing?

________________________
________________________
________________________
________________________
________________________

What are their interests?

________________________
________________________
________________________
________________________
________________________

What do they need to know or feel?

________________________
________________________
________________________
________________________
________________________

What’s your plan?

________________________
________________________
________________________
________________________
________________________

Courtesy of the New Era. © 2014 IRI
Read more at lds.org/go/helpquorum.